

Leah Swift, DO

Dr. Swift grew up in Virginia. She attended college at Rice University in Houston where she majored in Biochemistry, and first encountered the border region on a road trip through West Texas and Southeastern NM. She went on to complete her medical degree at the Edward Via College of Osteopathic Medicine in Blacksburg, VA, and her pediatric residency training at the Wake Forest University Baptist Medical Center in Winston-Salem, NC. Swift currently lives in El Paso with her husband – an active duty military physician – and two daughters, and is proud to be an adopted border resident and member of the Burrell community in teaching 1st and 2nd year medical students. Her academic interests include pediatric integrative medicine & osteopathic manipulative medicine, care of children with chronic health issues, and advocacy for the health care needs of vulnerable populations.
