

Burrell College of Osteopathic Medicine
Student Handbook 2021-2022
Introduction

This handbook, for students of the Burrell College of Osteopathic Medicine (the College), is intended to provide information regarding policies and procedures that govern the conduct of the Doctor of Osteopathic Medicine degree program. All enrolled students and those seeking matriculation to the College should become familiar with its contents

The College reserves the authority to amend its policies and procedures thereby modifying the contents of this Handbook. The College will provide notice of change to its students and the college community when such changes in policies or procedures may occur. Students shall be responsible for complying with the College's policies and procedures as stated herein and as posted on its website at:

Student Assumption of Risk

By entering into an agreement with the Burrell College of Osteopathic Medicine to engage in your osteopathic medical education you are voluntarily consenting to participate in educational activities, including required clinical skills experiences, with an understanding of the inherent risks, both known and unknown, associated with your professional training and the practice of medicine. As a medical student at the College, you acknowledge and assume responsibility for the inherent risks of adverse health events due to the nature of the general training and the specific clinical patient care environments. These risks may include, but are not limited to, occupational hazards and injuries, the transmission of communicable diseases, blood borne pathogen exposure, emotional stress, and bodily injury.
